

GREAT DISASTER TO FOREIGNERS

Japanese Rumor That 1,500
Were Slain During the Riots.

ATTACK ON TIEN TSIN

American Consulate and Many of the Foreign Concessions are Destroyed.

MASSING THE RELIEF FORCE

Shanghai, June 22.—[Special Cablegram]—A Japanese rumor says that fifteen hundred foreigners have been killed in Tien Tsin. Commander Hans of the German gunboat Itis died from wounds received during the bombardment of Taku Sunday.

Chefoo, June 22.—[Special Cablegram]—The bombardment of Tien Tsin with large guns continues. The American consulate has been raised. The Russian troops are occupying the railway station and are hard pressed. Reinforcements are urgently needed. Casualties heavy. Admiral Bruce reports from Taku Thursday's date: "Hope Tien Tsin will be relieved tonight."

Closed With Lord Salisbury

London, June 22.—[Special Cablegram]—The French and Chinese ambassadors were closeted with Salisbury this morning. Afterwards the cabinet met.

More Marines for China

Portsmouth, June 22.—[Special Cablegram]—Orders were received by the naval brigade for fifteen hundred marines to proceed to China on June 30.

Lost All Their Belongings

Chefoo, June 22.—[Special Cablegram]—The entire community at Peilo-bo arrived today on the American gunboat Nashville. They lost all their belongings.

Fighting Thirty-Six Hours

London, June 22.—It appears from dispatches sent by boat from Taku to Chefoo, that the Boxers cast lots with the Chinese regular troops and vigorously bombarded Tien Tsin, which was defended by a foreign garrison of from 3,000 to 3,500 troops, mostly Russians. Several parts of the town occupied by the natives had been fired, and fierce continuous fighting had been in progress for at least thirty-six hours.

The belief that Chinese are using big guns on the town makes the situation at Tien Tsin all the more serious.

CHINESE BOMBARD TIEN TSIN

American Consulate and Other Foreign Property Destroyed

Washington, June 22.—Acting Secretary of the Navy Hackett has received a cable message from Admiral Kempff, dated Che-Foo, June 21, saying that Tien-Tsin is being bombarded and the American consulate as well as much of the foreign concessions are being destroyed. A relief party is en route to Tien-Tsin, including 130 American marines under Maj. Walter. London, June 22.—Admiral Kempff's dispatch to the United States navy department announcing that Tien-Tsin is being bombarded was prominently used by the London papers and commented upon as indicating a change for the worse.

A dispatch from Berlin says: "According to an official Japanese report from Che-Foo the foreign settlement at Tien-Tsin was reduced to ashes June 18."

All the English women at Tien-Tsin left there Saturday by a train for Taku. Shanghai wires that they had some exciting experiences and would not have gotten through except for the assistance of the Chinese troops. The Boxers made several desperate attempts to attack the train.

The admiralty has received the following dispatch from Rear Admiral Bruce:

"Taku, via Chefoo, June 21.—No communication from the commander-in-chief in seven days or from Tien-Tsin in five days. The allies hold the Taku forts and Tong-Ku securely, and they will advance to the relief of Tien-Tsin when in sufficient strength.

"Troops are expected from Hong-kong to-morrow and 300 from Wei-Hai-Wei the following day. It is believed that fighting is constantly proceeding around Tien-Tsin. Our garrison there should be about 3,000 men.

A dispatch from Yokohama says: "Reports of the murder of foreign ministers at Peking and of the death of Admiral Seymour, although viewed with suspicion, have created a profound sensation. The press expresses the opinion that Japan, with or without the consent of the powers, must adopt active measures.

"The naval and military officers are very busy. Probably the whole Chinese division, under command of Gen. Fukushima, will be about within a few days. The Russian cruiser Rurik has arrived here with the new Russian minister to Japan and will leave for Taku."

A Shanghai dispatch says the stoppage of trade has thrown 10,000 coolies out of work at Shanghai. Taking advantage of the political disorders, bands of robbers are pillaging in the vicinity of Sam-Chun. The Chinese authorities are powerless.

Special dispatches from Shanghai continue to recount wholesale slaughter at Peking. The soldiers and "boxers" are said to be massacring each other, and the Chinese and Manchus are also reported to be engaged in mutual slaughter. Prince Tuan is alleged to have sacked and burned the palace. The emperor is reported to have been killed, the dowager empress is represented as missing and in some quarters it is believed she has committed suicide.

PEACE PROSPECTS IN THE PHILIPPINES

OUTLOOK IS THAT FIGHTING IS NEARLY OVER.

Filipinos Meet and Adopt Methods to Secure Peace—Gen. MacArthur Accepts the Proposals—Meeting Attended by Revolutionary Element—
Will Induce Aguinaldo to Submit.

Manila, June 22.—Two hundred Filipinos met yesterday morning in Manila to determine honorable and decorous methods for securing peace. The results were submitted last evening to Gen. MacArthur, who accepted them.

The leaders of the meeting will use their influence to induce Aguinaldo to accept the arrangements. If they are successful, as they hope to be, they believe Aguinaldo will issue orders in conjunction with the American authorities for the cessation of hostilities.

First Meeting of the Kind

The meeting which was the first of the kind since the days of the Filipino congress, was composed of the distinctly revolutionary element, the "Americanistas" being lacking.

Thirty political prisoners were released from jail in order to attend. Senor Paterno presided and Senor Buencamino, the originator of the movement, Gen. Pio del Pilar, Gen. Garcia, Gen. Macabulos and other prominent revolutionists were present.

It was pointed out that the question to be considered were military and civil, the military being concerned with a cessation of hostilities and the civil with the determination of the political status of the Philippines. The immediate object of the meeting was to effect peace and subsequently the leaders could consult with the civil commission as to political matters.

Proposals Submitted

It was evident that Senor Paterno was convinced that he could obtain Aguinaldo's sanction to a peace based upon the following seven clauses, which, after four hours were unanimously accepted as compatible with an honorable peace:

1. Amnesty.
2. The return by the Americans to the Filipinos of confiscated property.
3. Employment for the revolutionary generals in the navy and militia when established.
4. The application of the Filipino revenues to support needy Filipino soldiers.
5. A guarantee to the Filipinos of the exercise of personal rights accorded to Americans by their constitution.
6. Establishment of civil government at Manila and in the provinces.
7. Expulsion of the friars.

The statement of the seventh condition was vociferously acclaimed, the entire assembly shouting, "expel, expel."

W. H. TRIPP RAISED THE AMERICAN FLAG

Banner Was on High Twenty-Four Hours After the Republican Nomination Was Made.

On the farm of ex-Assemblyman W. H. Tripp, who is nearing his 80th year, has been hoisted the names of the republican candidates for president and vice president on a staff over fifty feet high. Within twenty-four hours after the nomination was made by the National republican convention at Philadelphia the banner was raised. Mr. Tripp hopes that they will receive a majority equal to that given four years ago to McKinley and Hobart, in the state of Wisconsin.

WISCONSIN MEN ARE ALL PLEASED

WERE FIRST FOR ROOSEVELT AND THEY STOOD BY HIM.

Ticket Nominated at Philadelphia Will Carry Badger State Stronger by 10,000 Than Any Other Result—
Comments of Some Delegates—
Praise for Mr. Wiswell.

Philadelphia, Penn., June 22.—McKinley and Roosevelt—the West, including Wisconsin, by its decided stand from the first for the New York governor, brought about this result.

A ticket is nominated by the unanimous choice of the delegates, a result unprecedented in recent conventions. The unanimity and enthusiasm which pervaded in the proceedings most strike terror to the hearts of the Bryanites.

The Wisconsin men are all pleased. They believe the opinion prevails among them that the right thing has been done, and that the people will applaud this endorsement of a universal demand. It is the opinion of the Wisconsin men that the ticket and the platform makes the republican party in the state stronger by 10,000 votes than any other result could possibly have done.

Wisconsin Sure for the Ticket

Joseph B. Treat, chairman of the republican state central committee said: "We gave McKinley more than 100,000 plurality in 1896, but are going to do better this fall. We will elect all the congressmen. The republicans of Wisconsin wanted to see Governor Roosevelt nominated for vice president and his name on the ticket is going to work like a charm."

Dr. Reynolds of Walworth county: "Wisconsin will be delighted with McKinley and Roosevelt. Those names fill the measure of the popular demand. The ticket is stronger by thousands of votes than any that could be named by the republican party."

"Wisconsin will give McKinley and Roosevelt a tremendous majority," said Senator Withee. "The right thing has been done."

Will See the Sights.

The Wisconsin delegation scattered, but not many of the delegates went home, most of them preferring to see some more of the East. National Committeeman Payne had not made up his mind whether to return direct to Wisconsin or not. Chairman Treat and Secretary Stickney of the state committee and State Secretary Withee started for home early last evening.

State Senator Nash, George J. Kiser, J. H. Stout and Judge Bancroft went to Atlantic City. State Senator Baxter and George B. VanBrunt went to Washington.

August Luedke and Bernard Leidersdorf went to New York, J. F. Barber went to Buffalo. Nearly all the others will visit various Eastern resorts and cities before returning to their homes.

Praise for Mr. Wiswell.

Sergt-at-Arms George N. Wiswell has been the recipient of many congratulations from officials of the convention and delegates from all sections for the admirable manner in which he has discharged the duties of his office. The republican national committee has passed resolutions in praise of Mr. Wiswell's efficiency and similar resolutions were adopted by the convention.

ROOSEVELT WAVED HIS WIFE A SIGNAL

Admiring Glances Between Them on the Floor of the Convention—
A Proud Woman.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 22.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, the wife of the Governor, was as interested as well as an interesting spectator of the event of yesterday. Mrs. Roosevelt occupied a seat on the left of the hall, in the first row of seats devoted to spectators.

Mrs. Roosevelt wore a simple, cool-looking gown of pink and a big black hat trimmed with feathers. She watched keenly the enthusiastic reception that followed the entrance of the Governor to the hall.

When the governor was recognized to make the speech seconding the nomination of President McKinley he had to stand for some little time on the platform facing the crowd before the enthusiasm died out sufficiently to enable him to begin his speech.

While he was standing there he caught Mrs. Roosevelt's eye, and he waved his hand at her. She returned the salutation with a nod and a smile.

Pretty nearly everybody in the crowd saw the exchange of courtesies, and in a moment there were hundreds of glasses turned in the direction of Mrs. Roosevelt.

She was a much studied woman after that. Everybody wanted to get a look at the wife of the man who held the convention by the ears.

The Governor's speech was by far the best of the short speeches delivered during the convention, and it was generally applauded and greatly complimented. Mrs. Roosevelt listened attentively while it was being delivered, and its reception, it was very evident, pleased her.

When it came to the nomination of her husband she watched all the proceedings with anxiety that was not easily concealed.

WM. J. BRYAN HAS NOTHING TO SAY

He Will Leave His Wisconsin Fishing
Resort Late This Afternoon
For Chicago.

Minocqua, Wis., June 22.—Col. Jennings Bryan did not leave for his home yesterday, but changed his plans and decided to remain over until this afternoon, when at 5:15 o'clock he and his party will proceed to Chicago. Chairman George W. Peck of the democratic state central committee had planned to run a special train for Mr. Bryan and wanted him to make short addresses while en route, but Col. Bryan preferred not to do so and asked to be excused. He will therefore take the regular train on the Milwaukee road this afternoon and make a ten minutes stop at Merrill and Wausau, at both of which places he will deliver short speeches. He will proceed direct to Chicago and from there return to his home.

While the republicans were hard at work in Philadelphia yesterday Col. Bryan spent the day at rest. He took a trip on the lake with his son, and in the afternoon superintended the packing of his books and trunks.

Col. Bryan kept well posted on what was going on in Philadelphia and received numerous bulletins from friends during the day. He was asked to express his opinion of the platform adopted in Philadelphia and the nomination of Messrs. McKinley and Roosevelt, but he declined to discuss politics.

Protest Against Boycott.

St. Louis, Mo., June 22.—The general boycott declared by the American Federation of Labor against the St. Louis Transit company is making itself felt. Representatives of various business houses besieged the headquarters of the street railway employees' union, protesting against the boycotts, declaring that they were unmerited and unjust. In a bulletin issued the unions are advised to act slowly and with care in declaring boycotts, and to take no steps without according a hearing to those against whom action is proposed.

BATTLE RAGING IN THE TRANSVAAL

BRITISH ATTACKED BOTHA AND COMPELLED A RETREAT.

It is Believed That Roberts is Engaged in Some Kind of Negotiations for Peace With Kruger—England is Anxious to Bring the Conflict in Africa to an End.

London, June 22.—[Special Cablegram]—Gen. Roberts wires from Pretoria: "Ian Hamilton's column reached the Springs yesterday on the road to Heidelberg, where he will join hands with Buller. Baden-Powell reports that Commandant Steyn and two hostile field cornets captured at Rutenburg."

A dispatch from Pretoria dated yesterday says Roberts attacked Botha twelve miles east of Pretoria Monday. There was intermittent fighting until Wednesday when the Boers retreated. The cavalry overtook them at Bronkhorst and Spruit Donkerhook. At both places the enemy were entrenched, but were forced to retire on Middleburg. The British killed and wounded number a hundred and twenty.

Roberts Negotiating With Kruger

London, June 22.—Interest in the South African war now centers on the campaign which Lord Roberts is evidently planning to bring the war to a final conclusion. The commander-in-chief has given no explanation of his agreement for a five days' truce with Gen. Botha. It is considered certain that the truce has to do with negotiations for surrender.

It is also believed that Lord Roberts is engaged in some kind of negotiation with President Kruger, prominent members of the Boer peace party at Pretoria acting as his intermediaries.

Cable Traction Submarine Boat.

To enable tourists to cross the English channel without the inconvenience of seasickness, a Frenchman has designed a submarine boat, to be propelled by cable traction. It will accommodate about 250 passengers, and will make the journey in about an hour, and should any accident happen to the motive power the boat may be detached and will at once rise to the surface and may continue the journey in the ordinary manner.

REPUBLICANS ARE VERY MUCH ELATED

Not a Note of Discord or Trace of Dissent Over the Ticket.

RIGHT THING WAS DONE

Sweeping Victory in the Elections. Next November is Confidently Predicted.

HANNA WILL HAVE CHARGE

Philadelphia, June 22.—Republican leaders in all states and territories of the United States are enthusiastic over the nomination of William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt. Not a note of discord is sounded. Not a trace of jealousy or disappointment can be found anywhere. States which had a favorite son for the vice presidency are the most profuse in their protestations of satisfaction, and their promise of energetic and complete support of the ticket in the anti-election campaign and at the polls.

Promise a Surprising Victory.

This was manifested in the cheers and demonstrations which greeted first the nomination of President McKinley and then the naming of Theodore Roosevelt by acclamation. But it was demonstrated in even a more impressive and surely a stronger way by statements made by delegation leaders after the excitement of the moment had died away. In these are predictions not only of overwhelming victory for McKinley and Roosevelt, but there are forecasts also of a sweeping victory of the election of state tickets and representatives in the national senate and house of representatives.

All Business Cleaned Up.

Absolutely all the business of the convention is disposed of, as the national committee met immediately after the adjournment and Senator Hanna was elected chairman. He accepted, thereby disposing of the stories which have been so often printed that he proposed to retire. He will conduct the campaign of 1900 on much the same lines as in 1896. Colonel Dick of Akron, O., was elected temporary secretary of the committee.

A meeting of the committee will be held in Cleveland in two or three weeks, at which time a permanent secretary will be elected and Chairman Hanna will then also appoint the members of the executive committee who will manage the campaign.

Hanna Predicts Victory.

When seen today Senator Hanna, who went out in the country today with Mr. Griscom, said:

"The people are satisfied with the ticket. The convention expressed its own desires. McKinley and Roosevelt will be elected and I believe the ticket and the platform agreed upon here in Philadelphia will be triumphantly indorsed by the American people."

Headquarters at Chicago.

National headquarters are to be opened in Chicago as soon as possible and a vigorous campaign will be commenced in the middle west at once. The main headquarters of the party will be in Chicago this year, as in 1896 and the most important part of the campaign will be conducted from that city.

Wiswell Takes Sword's Place.

The sensational feature of the meeting of the national committee was the deposing of the Sergeant at Arms H. L. Swords, who had held the job for twenty years. Swords expected to be re-elected, but was informed by Mr. Hanna that his place could be taken by George N. Wiswell, who as sergeant-at-arms of the convention made a record for good work that had never been surpassed.

Mr. Hanna was so much pleased with his arrangements that he promptly tendered to Wiswell the appointment as sergeant at arms of the committee, which Wiswell accepted.

Indicates "The North" Prosperity.

Burnett County Journal, Grantsburg, Wis.: The delinquent tax list now being published in the Journal is undoubtedly one of the smallest ever published in the country. It is probably larger than will ever be published again. This is due to the increase of settlement in the country and the general prosperity all over the country. For the past twenty years or more the county printing has been the one thing which has enabled the papers of this part of the state to exist. Hereafter they will have to hustle along on their merits and do business along the same lines other papers follow in localities not favored by large tax notices.

Rhode Island's Fine New Capitol.

Rhode Island is the smallest state in the union in area, and its entire population is about equal to that of the city of Boston, yet this state has nearing completion a state capitol which is exceeded in cost by the capitol of few states and which good judges declare is equaled by none in architectural beauty.

"Everybody's Magazine" for July.

Even to the chronic theatre-goers of long experience, it may be a surprise to learn that one of the very oldest actors in point of service, still before the public, is Mr. Stuart Robson. Long association with youthful roles, and the freshness and vigor of his portrayals make it difficult for us to realize that his public career extends over nearly half a century. Yet in the July number of Everybody's Magazine appears the first installment of a series of articles by Mr. Robson in the nature of an autobiography, entitled "The Memories of Fifty Years." These are articles that will interest, not only theatrical people, and people who are interested in theatrical matters, but also everyone who likes good story-telling, new glimpses of history, and new views of famous people.

The Simple Explanation for the month is on "Liquid Air." The story of Petroleum is told, and a brief account of the workings of the oil industry. There are fourteen other good articles and short stories.

ALL ENJOYED THE PICNIC

German Societies Had a Very Enjoyable Time in Janesville.

The visiting German societies had a good time at the Janesville picnic. The Monroe Daily Journal says:

"The German Aid and Benevolent societies of Monroe, New Glarus and Janesville joined in a grand picnic yesterday at Janesville. The society from this city, sixty strong, headed by the Monroe Military band, paraded to the St. Paul depot and took the morning passenger for Janesville, and after enjoying a good dinner, a street parade of the Janesville and local societies marched through the principal streets of Janesville, the lodge of that place being headed by the Imperial band. The procession then marched to the river, and taking a steamer, proceeded to Crystal Park Springs, where the afternoon was spent in various sports."

"The ride up the river was a feature of the day, being a rare treat to the Monroe delegation. Both bands discoursed pleasant music during this pleasant trip, and also during the entire afternoon at the park. Janesville may well feel proud of her band as the music furnished by them is of a high standard. The bands consolidated in the afternoon and played several selections which the crowd enjoyed immensely."

"It was a jolly crowd and the day was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. The hospitality shown by the Janesville society towards their Monroe brethren could not have been greater and it was greatly appreciated. The success of yesterday's picnic will doubtless warrant the giving of another in the near future."

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get about to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 4-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Babcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by Smith's Pharmacy, Kodak agents, next to post office.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Livestockman, Burgetstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale at Smith's Pharmacy, Kodak agents, next to P. O.

A Card of Thanks.

I wish to say that I feel under lasting obligations for what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has done for our family. We have used it in so many cases of coughs, lung troubles and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction, we feel greatly indebted to the manufacturers of this remedy and wish them to please accept our hearty thanks.—Respectfully, Mrs. S. Dory, Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by Smith's Pharmacy, next to postoffice, Kodak agents.

A NEW BOER HEROINE.

"Rightman's Girl" and How She Defied General Kitchener to Save Her Home.

BY ETEEL DE VERE.

One of the prettiest stories which have come out of South Africa since the beginning of the British-Boer war has to do with a young woman who is known to fame by no other name than that of "Rightman's girl." She is also called "a Boer Barbara Frietjie," but this is hardly fair to her. She is no imitator. It is entirely probable that she never heard of "Stonewall" Jackson at all. What she did when she defied Kitchener and saved her home, for this she did do, was entirely original. Rightman was one of the Boer commandants. He lived on a farm in the Prieska region, and when the war broke out he took his rifle and went to the front. At intervals he returned for ammunition and provisions. He made his home a rendezvous for Boer recruits. Later, when there had been heavy fighting in the neighborhood, he turned it into a Boer hospital.

At intervals, when he and his fellow burghers were at a distance, the little lone house on the veldt was left in charge of his daughter. It is too bad that her full name has not been told. Just "Rightman's girl" is the way she has been spoken of in South Africa. She is said to be a comely young woman, clear of eye, plump of figure and with a quick brain and a stout heart. She knows how to spin and weave and bake and brew, and do all the things which a good hausfrau ought to do.

All went well until Roberts began to move north with his great army. He sent the famous Kitchener to clear the path and keep it clear. Among other things he was especially directed to clear out the Prieska district. He was particularly told to hunt out the home of Commandant Rightman and destroy it. "Burn" was the order. Roberts had heard of this Rightman and of the humiliating defeats he had inflicted on the British.

Onward marched the hero of Kandahar, down on the plain went the hero of the Sudan, his detachments thrown out, to sweep the little settlements. Occasionally the English soldiers encountered small parties of Boers. Then came the charge, the battle, the scattering of one side or the other.

One day they came upon the Rightman farmhouse. Kitchener and his staff rode at the rear of the command. "Burn," said the general as he sent for a sergeant and pointed out the little "RIGHTMAN'S GIRL" DEFYING KITCHENER, house. The sergeant started with a small detachment of troopers, for the burning of farmhouses was a very ordinary thing.

The troops waited, expecting every moment to see smoke curl up around the roof and flames burst from the windows. They waited and waited, and when they got out their spyglasses they saw the sergeant still parleying with a pretty and excited girl at the door. Kitchener started forward with his staff at a sharp gallop, their swords clanking, spurs jingling.

"What's that?" Kitchener said, as he drew up to the door.

"Rightman's girl" had heard of Kitchener, and she knew what the orders were. But she drew herself up and looked at him defiantly, bracing her hands against the sides of the door.

"You shall not burn this house. I am here, and here I intend to stay," she said.

For a moment the chief of staff looked at the little woman—"Rightman's girl." For a moment he gazed into her eyes, and then turned sharply. Then he raised his hand and a military secretary spurred to the front.

"Put it down that the commander's orders with reference to the destruction of Rightman's farm could not be carried out, owing to unexpected opposition," Kitchener growled, and then he waited a second and turned toward the girl in the doorway.

She was still there with arms stretched out—a pretty figure. The chief of staff wheeled again.

"Forward!" And then staff spurred behind him, while the rugged troopers felt a strange throbbing under their khaki uniforms for the brave little woman who was watching them ride away.

"March on," he said. The line is familiar. The picture every man and woman has conjured, every boy and girl has dwelt upon, until Barbara Frietjie is just as much a part of the great civil struggle in this country as were the great guns and the great gun carriages.

"Forward!" "Rightman's girl" was left in the doorway of her farm—a heroine of the struggling Boers.

BUFFALO'S EXPOSITION.

Notes Concerning the Pan-American Enterprise For 1901.

The plan to move the Dewey arch from New York city to the Pan-American exposition is receiving favorable consideration.

The grading machine used in preparing the grounds for the Pan-American exposition is operated by ten teams and does the work of 300 men.

An effort is making to hold a municipal congress during the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo for the promotion of reforms that seem to be necessary in the affairs of nearly all cities.

The Pullman Palace Car company has notified the management of the Pan-American exposition that it will make a large and handsome exhibit of cars surpassing anything of the kind heretofore attempted.

The Buffalo Street Railway company will spend $3,000,000 for additional tracks and equipment so as to be prepared to carry the millions of visitors to and from the Pan-American exposition next year.

The United States is the largest exhibitor at the Paris exposition aside from France, having over 6,000 exhibits. A large number of these will come direct to Buffalo for the Pan-American exposition next year.

A million cards bearing in colors the Beck design expressing the spirit of sisterhood between the Americans are being printed for wide circulation. On the back of the card many features of the exposition are mentioned briefly.

There's money in little things. The concessionaire who will have the peanut privilege at the Pan-American exposition expects to sell $100,000 worth of these delicious bivalves. They will be shucked by machinery driven by Niagara falls electric power and put up in packages to sell at half a dime.

Sousa's famous band has been engaged for the Pan-American exposition, and negotiations are pending with other high class organizations for the whole or a part of the season of 1901. The 50 cent admission ticket will pay for a day of concerts, to say nothing of countless other entertaining features.

Notwithstanding the failure of congress to appropriate $40,000 for an Indian congress at Buffalo next year there will be such a congress at the coming exposition. It will be a feature of the Midway and will excel in its completeness and interest the one at Omaha, which was the chief feature there.

We learn that John Ruskin has left a large number of unpublished manuscripts, including parts of the lives of Reynolds and Turner, which he had intended to write, says the London Chronicle. There can be little doubt that a selection of the manuscripts will eventually be given to the public if not indeed the bulk of them.

It's a Serious Thing

For a woman to come to that period known as change of life. It is almost always a period of suffering, and the derangement of mind and body is sometimes so great that the family life is utterly marred by the unhappy wife and mother. At such a time every woman needs just the help that is given by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It works with Nature, soothes the nerves by nourishing them, and cures diseases of the delicate organs. In brief, it makes weak women strong; sick women well.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.

"I have taken four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' for female weakness and change of life," writes Mrs. Lizzie A. Bowman, of New Matamoras, Washington Co., Ohio. "Before I began taking it I could not do anything. I had such pains in my head and in the back of my neck that I thought I would lose my mind. Now I can work every day and do not suffer. I recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to all women suffering in the period of change of life. It is the best medicine I have ever found."

Every woman should send for a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. Send 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. M. E. Hollis Lost Her Pocket Book—Thief That Found It Made a Haul.

Mrs. M. E. Hollis, who keeps a grocery store at 408 Mineral Point avenue is mourning the loss of a pocket book and considerable sum of money. Some time ago she lost a pocket book containing a key to her house and the lock not having been changed whoever found it, made use of it to enter her house Wednesday night and carry off a pocket book containing about seventy dollars. The party that took the book was evidently familiar with the place as he knew to which door the lost key belonged.

THE TICKET SUITS LOCAL REPUBLICANS

Pleased With the Nomination of McKinley and Roosevelt at Philadelphia Yesterday.

To say the republicans of this city are well pleased with the nominations made for president and vice president at the National convention, yesterday, is putting it mild, and they say there is no question but what it will win and win easy and that the 10 to 1 crowd will have no show against the combination put up at this time by the republican party. This is what some of the prominent republicans say of the ticket:

W. A. Jackson—The ticket is all right. In my estimation it is a sure winner.

S. B. Heddles—I think it is a fine ticket and endorse it fully.

W. G. Wheeler—I am well satisfied with the nominations and think it is the strongest ticket they could put up.

Ex-Mayor Thoroughgood—It is a first class ticket and suits me fully. They could not have made better nominations.

C. S. Jackman—I think the ticket all right. Roosevelt will be a vote winner.

Wm. H. Appleby—It suits me exactly. I was for Roosevelt for second place from the start.

A. H. Sheldon—It was the best thing the republicans could do. Roosevelt will help the vote immensely.

A. E. Matheson—I fully endorse the ticket but think it is unfortunate for our party in New York State; otherwise it is all right.

TRIBUTE.

Because my body turned a cold;
And death sat on this shivering sod,
My soul rose upward, seeking God,
Oh, thou who makest time to fleet
Before thy holy judgment seat,
Lo, here I stand with muted feet!

In that far tower where roses spring
And little birds are chirping
I found no sacrifice to bring,
Only my heart, this bleeding spot—
By thee conceived, by thee begot—
Where worms of hunger dieth not.

Take it, oh, Lord, a scarlet stain
To set within thy robe of pain
And make thee dream of earth again.
—Alice Brown in Atlantic.

A LUCKY ASSIGNMENT.

BY A. E. BELL.

They were old friends and had accidentally met at the Pioneer Press club after a separation of more than a decade. After the experiences of each had been recounted at some length one of them related the following story to a coterie of newspaper men who were present:

"It was back in the eighties that I held a desk as city editor on the staff of the Pottsville (Pa.) Democrat. I had been working pretty hard, and my health was failing, so one day the chief advised me to take a month or two off, go into the country and recuperate. He further advised me that if I wished to take the vacation I would be placed on full pay on the condition that I write a letter each week which might be of interest to patrons of The Democrat.

"I had a friend located in a little town in Washington county who was engaged in the publication of a weekly paper, and I at once made up my mind to go down and pay him a visit.

"I arrived at my destination in good time and was enthusiastically welcomed by my friend and his estimable young wife and made to feel at home immediately.

"I lounged about the town, which had a population of about 1,500 souls, and struck up quite a large acquaintance within a short time.

"One morning, after I had been there probably a week, I sauntered into the office of my friend and found him in a dreadful stew. His local man had taken suddenly ill, and there was no one else who could take an assignment that had been mapped out for that day's work.

"It seems that a man named Barron had died at his home, about five miles from town, and, as his father had been a man of wealth and he had gained considerable notoriety as a local character, it was deemed a good idea to get an extended obituary of the deceased Barron. The man owned property in the mountains of a township that had been named after his father and was somewhat difficult of access.

"I was feeling well that morning and, thinking a trip in the country would do me good, offered myself as 'sub' on the occasion.

"The offer was eagerly accepted, and within a short time I was on route in a buggy for the scene, which was destined to prove a lucky assignment, although I was not aware of the fact.

"By making numerous detours and inquiries from each person I met I was able to reach the Barron home. It was located between mountains which formed a bowl shaped depression about the house, which could be reached only by a narrow pass.

"What an excellent location for a robbers' rendezvous! I thought as I passed along the narrow lane. Here a handful of men could withstand a regiment of soldiers." I drove up to the log cabin, which was built against the side of the mountain in the furthest corner of the depression, and stopped. A half dozen dirty looking children were playing about the doorway, and they all dropped their play the instant they caught sight of me and ran inside the hut.

"I walked leisurely to the door, which stood wide open, and rapped. A sharp featured woman made her appearance after I had waited a few moments, and I stated the purpose of my visit.

"I was invited in, and a chair was pushed forward for my use.

"The woman disappeared through a low door at the rear of the hut, and I took the opportunity of making a few observations of my surroundings. The hut was furnished with a couple of beds, a rusty cook stove and a rickety old table, and everything denoted poverty.

"The woman returned by the time I had taken a look around and was followed by a middle aged man with a villainous countenance as you would care to see. He was a younger brother of the deceased, and he began to give me some facts regarding the life of the man whose obituary I was to obtain.

"While I was taking notes another man came in and when I was through with the task in hand took a look around the hut. As quickly as my eyes fell upon the third person it struck me that I had seen him somewhere. He was of rather nice appearance, had a sandy mustache and was well dressed. I had surely seen him at some previous time and, with an object in view, inquired if that was a son of the deceased. I was gratified to know that his name was Barron also, for at that very moment it flashed upon me that I had seen him in police court in Pottsville only a few weeks before under arrest for passing bogus money.

"I began to make some inquiries of him, and he told me that he was employed in Pottsville and was at home for the funeral of his father and intended going back to his work the next day.

"Having nothing else to detain me, I took leave of the people and started back to town. I drove slowly down the road, and once I had an occasion to turn and look back at the cabin. As I did so I saw the form of a man dodging along between the trees that skirted the hillside along the road. My suspicions were aroused at his strange actions, and I kept my weather eye in his direction until I got safely out upon the highway, where I lost sight of him. A brisk drive soon landed me back at the office of my friend, who greatly praised my obituary.

"I did his local work several days longer, and when his assistant had fully recovered from his illness I resigned and returned to Pottsville in much better spirits than when I had left it a month before.

"The next day I took up my routine assignment, and at the morning session of the police court what was my astonishment to see in the prisoner's dock the very same young man whom I had met among the mountains.

"I at once became deeply interested in his case. He was charged with passing counterfeit coin, the same charge on which he was arrested several months before. His honor concluded, in view of the serious charge and the fact that it was for the second offense, to hold him for further investigation.

"During the previous six months Pottsville had been flooded with bogus money, and the authorities had offered a reward for the makers and shovers of the queer. Young Barron had been twice accused of passing the money, but each time he told such a plausible story that the officials were loath to believe him responsible for the whole matter. The situation was becoming alarming. Detectives had been employed, but they were as much at sea as the local officers. As a last resort a reward of $1,000 was offered for the arrest and conviction of the offenders.

"When no results came of the work that was being done toward clearing up the matter and the bogus stuff continued to circulate, it was considered advisable to raise the reward, which was accordingly increased to $1,500.

"This was the status of affairs on my return from my vacation.

"I began to do a little detective work on my own account. The sum of $1,500 was a snug one, and I began to make deductions, with the prisoner, Barron, as a starting point.

"I looked back over the trail that I had covered a few weeks before—the location of the Barron home in Washington county, the situation of the old hut in the bowl shaped depression among the lofty mountains, the one room in the hut with a rear door. What was behind the portals of that rear door?

"Then my imagination came into play, and I thought what an excellent place for a counterfeiter's den could be under the mountain, with the hut as a shield.

"Well, to make a long story short, I told the mayor of my suspicions, and asked for a detail of four men from the force, to go down into Washington county and investigate. He only laughed at me, until I made things so plain that he was carried away with enthusiasm over the plausibility of the whole thing and ordered four policemen in citizens' clothes to accompany me to the spot and make a thorough investigation.

"We arrived at our rendezvous one evening, having each one gone individually, so as not to arouse any suspicion as to our object, and left after nightfall for the Barron home.

"We reached a point about a mile from the narrow lane, at daybreak, tied up our rigs and started on foot for the hut. We were not long in reaching the place, and a vigorous rapping brought the sharp featured woman to the door. She was rendered speechless with fright at the sight of five strangers at the door. She was invited to come outside and keep quiet. Our next point was the door at the rear. We cautiously pushed this open, and the sight that we encountered was one that I will never forget.

"Six men and two or three boys were busily engaged about a sweltering furnace, with a full set of molds, each at his particular work. On the floor was a large quantity of both gold and silver coins, of dollars and eagles, half eagles and double eagles.

"We captured the gang without a struggle and also took charge of the outfit, which, by the way, was one of the most complete that ever was seen outside the United States mint. At the subsequent trial the entire gang, including young Barron, were given strong terms in the penitentiary. I received the $1,500 reward, which I made very good use of."—Newspaperman.

CATHARRH: FORERUNNER OF CONSUMPTION.

Few realize what a deep-seated, obstinate disease Catharrh is, regarding it as a simple inflammation of the nose and throat, little or no attention is given it. But, however insignificant it may seem at first, it is serious and far-reaching in its results.

The foul secretions entering the circulation poison the entire system. The stomach, kidneys—in fact all the organs—feel the effect of this catharral poison, and when the lungs are reached its progress is rapid and destructive, and finally ends in consumption.

It frequently happens that the senses of hearing and smell are in part or entirely lost, the soft bones of the nose eaten into and destroyed, causing intense suffering and greatly disfiguring the face. While sprays, washes and salves may give temporary relief, no permanent benefit can be expected from such treatment.

CATHARRH IS A CONSTITUTIONAL OR BLOOD DISEASE, and far beyond the reach of mere local remedies. Those who rely upon them for a cure lose valuable time, meet with disappointment and allow the disease to take firmer hold. Only a real blood remedy can reach this troublesome and dangerous disease.

S. S. S. cures Catharrh because it first cleanses and builds up the blood, purifies it, makes it rich and healthy, stimulates and puts new life into the sluggish worn-out organs, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous accumulations.

Mrs. Josephine Volbail, of Due West, S. C., writes: "I had Catharrh, which became so deep-seated that I was entirely deaf in one ear, and all inside of my nose, including part of the bone, sloughed off. When the disease had gone this far the physician gave me up as incurable. I determined to try S. S. S. as a last resort, and began to improve at once. It seemed to get at the seat of the disease, and after a few weeks' treatment I was entirely cured, and for more than seven years have had no sign of the disease."

S. S. S. is made of roots, herbs and barks of wonderful tonic and purifying properties. It is the only vegetable blood purifier known, and a certain and safe cure for all blood troubles. Send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases, and at the same time write our physicians about your case. They will cheerfully give you any information or advice wanted. We make no charge for this.
